

No.

Pathologist's Branch,

Melbourne, 31/12/ 1896

My Dear Sir,

I have to thank you for previous answers to my questions & now send you a specimen for your opinion which has given me a little trouble. I have described it as Dendroboechium argillaceum, n. sp. but I am in doubt if any of the existing genera actually fit it. I enclose a description & a few rough sketches of some of my original drawings. The sclerotic-like bodies are very puzzling to me. Wishing you a happy & prosperous New-year

I remain
Yours faithfully
J. M. Alpine