My dear Colleague:-

I have just received a letter from Professor J. C. Arthur, who was formerly associated with us as an editor of the Botanical Gazette. It seems that while he was editor, you received the Botanical Gazette in exchange for the Sylloge. Professor Arthur suggests that perhaps you might like to continue the arrangement, sending the Sylloge to the Department of Botany, The University of Chicago, where the Gazette is now published. If this would be agreeable to you, I would be very glad to arrange it.

Yours sincerely,

John M. Coulter
