

ROYAL COLLEGE OF SCIENCE,

ST. STEPHEN'S GREEN, EAST,

Dublin, 12-12 1905.

Dear Sir

Release find, ^{under separate cover} enclosed a specimen of a fungus on the root of an apple tree (variety Ecklinville) pulled up as useless. I enclosed also a piece of root taken from the region where the scar, at which the fungus grew, was. I have only very few coremia. I put it in the Stilbaceae near the genus Graphium.

I should be glad of your opinion of it as regards name and parasitic nature.

I am

Yours sincerely
J. Johnson.
