W. A. KELLERMAN, EDITOR

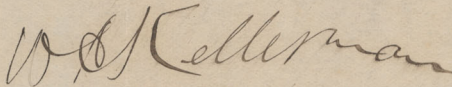

April 18, 1906.

Dear Professor Saccardo:-

The MS. for New Species of North American Fungi which you kindly sent me some time ago came duly to hand. I could not arrange the copy for the next No. of the Journal of Mycology earlier than this, and therefore I have neglected to acknowledge the receipt of this article earlier. I thank you very much for this article. I am very anxious indeed to publish in the Journal all that pertains to North American fungi and am very thankful indeed to the European botanists who so kindly send me copy. I have another article besides this of yours prepared by a European mycologist, which will appear in the Journal.

I will very gladly attend to your request, namely, that Dr. Clements look over the proof so that there may be no typographical errors in the article.

Yours very respectfully,

Mons. le Prof. P. A. Saccardo,
Padova, Italy.
