Dear Sir:

Under separate cover I have again sent four more packets of fungi collected by myself or under my direction, by my students. I should be pleased to have ~~made~~ ^{made} determinations of these. A large number should constitute absolutely new species since these collections were made from new materials. I should greatly appreciate a reply, letting me know if these specimens have arrived in good condition. I still have a large amount of more material and should like to know whether you will be able to handle this as well as that which I have already sent you. Thanking you for any kind consideration in this regard.

Sincerely yours,

Otto A. Reinking
