R. Istituto Botanico,
Padova, Italy.

Dear Professor Saccardo:-

I want to thank you for your postal card of November 24, 1918 and I regret to hear that the packages I sent August 16, 1918 had not as yet arrived. Those packages left Manila and I expect have been delayed. If they have been lost I shall replace them with a new shipment.

Professor Baker is dean of the college of Agriculture and so is still here at the College. He wants to be remembered to you. I believe that a large number of my specimens, especially those collected by myself are quite different from those that Professor Baker has sent. I trust that you will find a number of new and interesting species. From time to time, I shall send more for I still have a large number of collected specimens that must be recorded before sending away. I greatly appreciate your kindness in this matter and I remain

Yours very truly,

OTTO A. REINKING,

Associate Professor of Plant Pathology.
