

Botanical Laboratory,

Cambridge.

March
~~February~~ 23rd, 1904.
-----

My dear Colleague,

You will by this time have received an invitation to attend the Meeting of the British Association in Cambridge from August 17th to August 24th next, and to be the guest of the Association during your stay here.

I need hardly say that you will be very heartily received and welcomed in this Ancient University, and I wish to point out that we have many interesting things to show you, and shall look forward to the honour and pleasure of a visit from you with delightful anticipations of the interchange of ideas that may ensue.

Permit me, therefore, to add my personal persuasion that you will attend and assurances of a cordial reception from all of us, and Believe me to be,

My dear Colleague,

Yours sincerely,

H. Marshall Ward

Professor of Botany in the University.