Roger Bissière was born on September 22, 1888 at Villeréal, France. After finishing secondary school he entered the Ecole des Beaux-Arts, Bordeaux. In 1910 he went to Paris and worked as a journalist, painting in his free time. He first exhibited in the Salon d'Automne in 1919. From 1924 to 1937 he taught at the Académie Ranson. He returned to his family home, Boissiérette, where he lived in isolation throughout the war. He continued working, taking inspiration from the landscape and the caves at Lascaux. In 1947 he exhibited paintings and fabric collages, examples of which are in the Museum of Modern Art in Paris and Amsterdam. His first exhibition, Images Without Title, was held at the Galerie Jeanne Bucher in 1951. Another exhibition at the same gallery followed in 1952, and shortly thereafter he received the Grand Prix National des Arts, awarded for the first time to a painter. In 1954 he finished eleven colored woodcuts, illustrations for the Canticle to the Sun by Saint Francis of Assisi. His works are in the collections of the Museums of Modern Art in Paris, Amsterdam, Eindhoven, Oslo, Bergen, La Haye, and Boston. The Museum of Modern Art in Paris gave Bissière a retrospective exhibition in 1959 and the Museum of Modern Art in New York acquired one of his paintings in the same year.

Jean Fautrier was born in Paris on May 16, 1898. After the death of his father he was brought up by his Irish grandmother. When he was ten years old, she died and Fautrier went to live in London with his mother. He entered the Royal Academy of Arts and later at the Slade. He was mobilized in 1917 and went back to France. After the war he lived in Paris, where he met Madame Jeanne Castel who, just beginning her career as an art dealer, encouraged him to go on painting and gave him a show. He also exhibited at this time with Paul Guillaume. From 1935 until 1939 he continued painting and lived in the Alps where he operated a hotel and taught skiing. Since 1942 he has lived in Chatenay on the outskirts of Paris. He has exhibited in Paris at the Galerie Jeanne Castel, Galerie Bernheim, Galerie René Drouin, Galerie Rive Droite, Galerie André Schoeller; in New York at the Iolas Gallery and Sidney Janis Gallery. He has exhibited also at the Galerie Apollinaire, Milan; Kunstverein, Freiberg i. Br.; Museum Leverkusen, Schloss Morsbroich; Galerie 22, Düsseldorf; I.C.A., London and Galerie L'Attico, Rome.

Alexandre Istrati was born March 9, 1915 in Dorchoi, Rumania.

He studied both painting and law, and received his licence-en-droit in 1937.

During this period he also received a diploma from the Academy of Fine Arts in Bucharest where he served as instructor from 1938 to 1947. In that same year he left Rumania and went to Paris on a French Government Fellowship during which time he developed a close friendship with Brancusi. He studied for a time at the Beaux-Arts and with André Lhote. Since 1947 he has participated in exhibitions of the Salon de Mai, Salon d'Octobre, and the Réalités Nouvelles. He has had one-man exhibitions in Paris at the Galerie Breteau, Galerie Huit, Galerie Colette Allendy, Galerie Denise René.

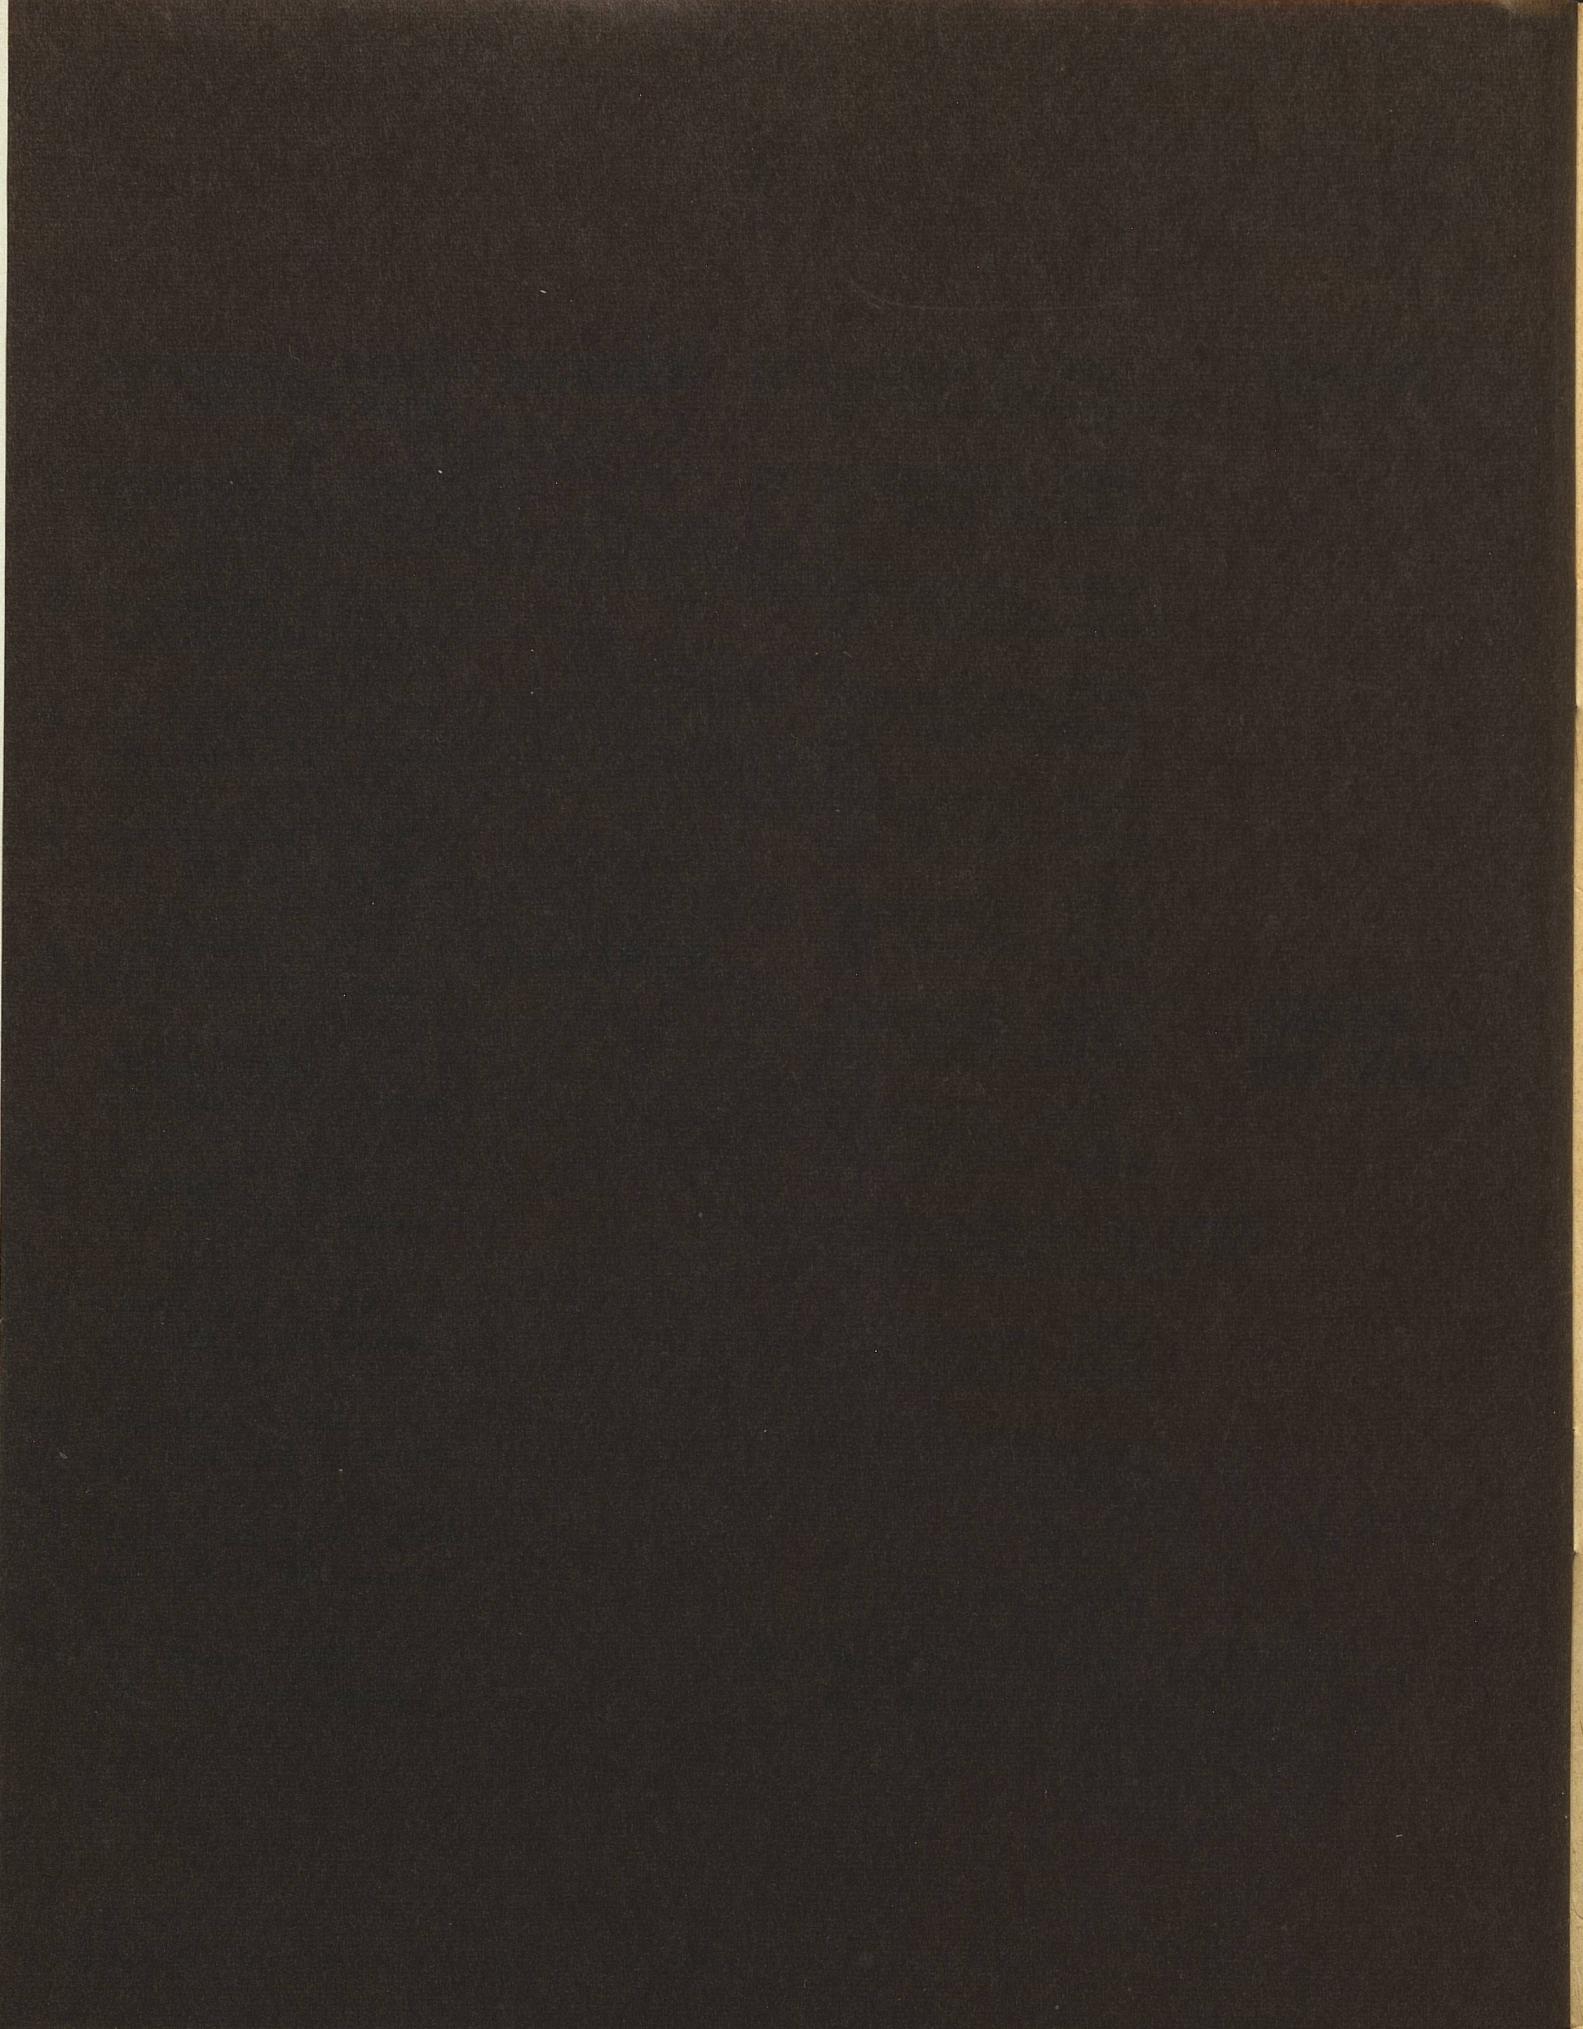

His first major one-man exhibition was held at World House Galleries in 1958.

Nine years later she began her studies with Bourdelle and Despiau in sculpture, Friesz and Léger in painting, and graphics with Hayter. In 1930 she married the Hungarian painter Arpad Szènes. She held her first exhibition in 1933 at the Galerie Jeanne Bucher. In 1947 she returned to Paris after a long stay in Rio de Janeiro.
